

Administrative Suite For Schools To Be Reorganized

A complete reorganization of the Andover school administration was unveiled Tuesday night by Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert.

The school committee had requested a plan for a streamlined administration early in the spring, and welcomed the superintendent's first status report on a reassessment and cutback.

Seifert's streamlining will put directors, supervisors and coordinators back into part-time classroom teaching to save instructional dollars, and will give principals direct responsibility over all personnel and programs in their buildings, including cafeteria and custodial care.

Principals will be directly accountable to a pair of assistant superintendents, one for elementary and one for secondary education. Each assistant superintendent will be responsible for personnel, programs and evaluation in his sector. Responsibility for personnel now lies in the separate office of a system-wide personnel manager, Vaughn I. Clapp.

The aim of the streamlining,

Seifert said, is to define and focus responsibility more clearly and to save money through more effective use of school personnel.

A special projects approach will put various teachers on half-time teaching for a period of a year or so while they spend half their time working on a special project of research. Seifert told the school committee this will be more effective and less expensive than having an administrator follow a project for a long period of time.

Assistant principals no longer will occupy themselves chiefly with discipline. The superintendent described discipline as an expensive waste of the talents of Andover's three very talented assistant principals, "who know students well and are respected by them."

"Discipline is everybody's business," Seifert declared, and must be shared by the whole teaching staff. The assistant principals will no longer be just the "bad guys," but will use much of their former "discipline" time working with

Solution To Town Disposal Problems Possibly Due Soon

The town's refuse problem may be solved within the week, following examination of bids on contracts to pickup residential trash and deposit it out of town.

The bids on municipal pickup of refuse and garbage were received last Thursday and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade, have been examining the proposals and varied options since.

Further interviews with the contractors was scheduled for Wednesday, along with a check on how the pickup is to be handled, the equipment to be used, bonding matters and disposal site approval.

Stanley Rockettenetz, Inc., of Woburn is the apparent low bidder on the pickup and disposal of material out-of-town with a total bid of $314,000, which includes combined pickup service and some of the options which have been under consideration by the board.

Eastern Contract Disposal Division of SCA of Rowley is the apparent second low bidder on combined pickup, with options for the first year at a total proposal of $318,125.

Town meeting in March, which rejected a new sanitary landfill site for the town, opting instead for municipal pickup with disposal out of town, provided $320,000 to initiate the service this year.

The bids called for a three year contract. All bids show an ascending rate for the following two years.

The two basic proposals, on which the two major firms submitted proposals, were Rockettenetz, $256,000 for combined collection and SCA, $272,410. For collection of rubbish only, with disposal out of town, the Woburn firm bid $246,000 and the Rowley Company, $260,510.

As for optional items, such as collection of recyclable items on a once a week basis, Rockettenetz proposed this service for $46,000; SCA, $33,876; Donald Craig of Andover, operating Commercial and Industrial Containers Inc., $25,800.

Collection of municipal litter baskets around the town had the following proposals: SCA, $3,954; Craig, $3,800; Nabydoski Brothers, $4,000; Thomas P. Christopher of Andover, $5,036 and Rockettenetz, $4,800.

Collection of containers at the public schools: SCA, $4,285; Craig, $5,796; Nabydoski, $5,200 and Rockettenetz, $4,000.

Memorial Day Tribute Monday

The Andover Patriotic Holiday Committee has extended an invitation to all veterans, particularly those of the Vietnam Conflict, to join with local veterans groups, civic officials and other groups in the annual Memorial Day observance and parade on Monday.

The invitation to participate in the parade and exercises which will get underway at 9:30 a.m. is also extended to all servicemen currently on active duty with the Armed Forces who may be in Andover the morning of the parade.

There will be a special tribute to those men from Andover who gave the supreme sacrifice for their country in the Vietnam Conflict.

The parade and exercises at Memorial Auditorium will be preceded by a salute to the dead of all wars at all town cemeteries by members of Andover's veterans organizations.

Commander John C. Doherty of V.F.W. Post 2128 will act as master of ceremonies for the main service at Memorial Auditorium. The opening prayer will be given by Rev. Jerome W. Holland, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's parish, followed by the playing of the National Anthem and a eulogy to Andover's Vietnam casualties by Congressman Paul W. Cronin.

To be honored are Capt. Gerald F. Currier, Corpsman Richard Gilbreath, 1st Lt. Brian R. O'Connor, Sp/4 Joseph Candiano, P.F.C. George H. Belanger and Sp/4 Warren C. Deyermund.

Miss Ann Raymond of the Girl Scouts will give a recitation of "In Flanders Field," and the Gettysburg Address will be delivered by Miss Ellen Emmons of the Camp Fire Girls.

PREPARING for the annual Memorial Day tribute are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of Stevens Street, shown decorating a family plot at Spring Grove Cemetery. The Memorial Day parade and exercises planned for the Patriotic Holiday committee are scheduled for Monday morning.

Suspicious Fire At West Junior High Under Probe

A fire of suspicious origin at West Junior High school is under investigation by the state fire marshal's office, local police and fire officials.

The fire broke out shortly after 2 p.m. Monday in one of the girls lavatories at the Shawsheen Road school building. Andover firefighters responded under the direction of Deputy Chief Harold T. Hayes.

There was considerable smoke in the area of the fire, which was started in a trash can. The fire was definitely vandalism, according to Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton.

Some damage was done to a ceiling area. The blaze was discovered by a teacher, who grabbed an extinguisher and had the fire under control quickly.

Youngsters in classes at the time were evacuated from the building, but the prompt action of the faculty member and the fire department allowed return to classrooms before the official close of the school day.

Principal William E. Hart reported Tuesday that there were some suspects. The investigation is being handled by state and local law enforcement officials, however.

Selectmen Meet At High School

Mosquitoes, a problem in Andover the past year, have moved the selectmen from their usual meeting place in town hall to the large group meeting room at the high school.

The board will meet Tuesday night next week, due to the holiday.

The move to the high school is to accommodate a larger audience. Reportedly residents of the community opposed to a mosquito control project for the town, wish to be heard on the subject.

Town meeting last October approved a mosquito control project for the town in view of the problems created by the pests last spring and summer.

Local conservationists have opposed the spraying of insecticides in town, and apparently wish to be heard on the matter before the public works department initiates the program.

SUITE NAMED. The surgical suite at Bon Secours Hospital was dedicated to officers and members of the Board of Directors of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Corporation at the annual meeting of the board Tuesday. Presenting a plaque is William L. Lane, hospital director, to Irving E. Rogers, Sr., chairman of the board and Dr. Milton J. Meyers, newly elected president of the board.

Joint Hospital Board Honored

Election of officers and dedication of the surgical suite at Bon Secours Hospital to the officers and members of the board featured the annual meeting of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Corporation annual meeting.

William L. Lane, director of the hospital, announced the naming of the suite in honor of the officers and members of the corporation who raised $288,000 for the facility.

Lane, in his presentation of the plaque to be placed at the Bon Secours, read the inscription which honors the board members "for their dedication to the improvement of Greater Lawrence's health facilities and in recognition of their distinguished leadership and significant efforts in aiding and abetting the cause of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Hospital Building Funds."

The hospital corporation has raised over $3,000,000 since 1969 for the two hospitals.

Mrs. Vincent P. Morton, Jr., of Andover, was presented the Health Award, honoring her outstanding efforts on the committee's behalf.

Irving E. Rogers, Sr., who recently resigned as President of the corporation at the last meeting, was elected chairman of the board of directors. Mr.

Rogers, one of the founders of the corporation, has served as its president since 1969 and was presented with an engraved gavel in appreciation of his services.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers, of Andover, was elected to succeed Mr. Rogers as president of the board.

Other officers include Robert L. Gable, vice president; W. Clare Brooks, treasurer; Sister Charles Marie Brown, assistant treasurer and R. Ashton Smith, secretary.

Re-elected to serve on the board were W. Clare Brooks, Sister Charles Marie Brown, Honorable John E. Fenton, Atty. John E. Fenton, Jr., Robert L. Gable, George E. Goodman, Dr. Milton J. Meyers, Irving E. Rogers, Jr., B. Allen Rowland, R. Ashton Smith and Dean K. Webster, Jr.

William L. Lane and Mrs. Vincent P. Morton, Jr., were elected to the board.

Contract Awarded

Contract for a new pumper for the fire department was awarded to the American LaFrance Co. of Elmira, N.Y. this week by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

American LaFrance was the low bidder on the new apparatus expected to be delivered in early July 1974, with a bid price of $48,627.

Ward LaFrance Truck Corp. of Elmira Heights, N.Y. was second with a bid of $49,777 and Mack Trucks, Inc., of Allston was third with $50,903.

Town meeting in March appropriated $30,000 for purchase of the new equipment with the balance to be appropriated at the next annual town meeting.

Garon To Under W. I.

Edward P. Garon of North Andover has been awarded Western Electric Company Scholarship for the 1973 academic year at Merrimack College, it was announced by Merrimack College President Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A.

The Western Electric Scholarship, which is valued at $1500, is awarded annually. Merrimack College students have demonstrated noteworthy academic proficiency during sophomore and junior years.

Commenting on Mr. Garon's award, Fr. Aherne said: "We are pleased to recognize academic accomplishments of Edward Garon with the Western Electric Company Scholarship."

AFS Student

The Andover Chaparral American Field Service is happy to announce that Miss Martha Souza Mansur from Juiz de Fora, Brazil will be the foreign student for the coming year.

Martha is 17½ years old and comes from a family of five brothers and two sisters. She is in the middle of her third year of high school. The Brazilian school year runs from March to December with winter vacation in July. The High School is three years long. The third year concentrates on four or five subjects directly related to the College entrance examination. The native language of Brazil is Portuguese.

Martha will arrive in the United States at the end of the month. She will live with her host family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cattaui, and attend Andover High School with their daughter Lisa.

Andover's two A.F.S. participants, high school juniors Kevin Staid and C. MacDonald, have been notified by the A.F.S. International in New York that they will be spending the Summer program in South America.

Kevin will be going to Paulo, Brazil and will be with the Jose Docout Fial family. Craig is off to Santa Argentina to live with the Eduardo Costa family. Both will be attending school there they are in their new country. The average school day is from 7 in the morning to 12 in the afternoon. They will have an opportunity to learn about the city and their families. The boys will also study slides of Andover and speaking engagements with South America as part of the A.F.S. program.

Kevin and Craig will leave for their new countries at the end of June and will return to Andover in September to begin Senior year. Kevin will be busy these next few weeks mastering the Portuguese language while Craig will be studying Spanish in school and can relax.

Garon To Continue Study Under W. E. Scholarship

Edward P. Garon of North Andover has been awarded the Western Electric Company Scholarship for the 1973-74 academic year at Merrimack College, it was announced by Merrimack College President, Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A.

The Western Electric Scholarship, which is valued at $1500, is awarded annually to a Merrimack College student who has demonstrated noteworthy academic proficiency during his sophomore and junior years.

Commenting on Mr. Garon's award, Fr. Aherne said: "We are pleased to recognize the academic accomplishments of Edward Garon with the Western Electric Company Scholarship and hope that this scholarship award will serve as a further incentive for the academic and personal development of Mr. Garon. We also appreciate the continued interest and generosity of the Western Electric Company not only in Merrimack College, but in the cause of higher education for college students."

Garon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Demers, 7 Chapman Ave., Andover, is a junior Economics major in the Division of Liberal Arts and Sciences. A Dean's List student every semester since 1970, Garon has maintained a 3.72 cumulative average and has been recognized as a Presidential Scholar for the 1972-73 academic year. He has served as a staff member of the Warrior, the weekly student newspaper, and The Merrimack Review, the college literary publication. He has also contributed articles for Impact, the Alumni magazine of Merrimack College.

Garon plans to pursue graduate studies upon graduation from Merrimack and aspires to a career as a managerial economist.

A 1968 graduate of Andover High School, Garon served in the U.S. Army in 1969 and 1970. He was awarded the Army Commendation Medal and the Bronze Star while serving in Vietnam.

A resident of North Andover, Garon is married to the former Patricia Bayliss. The Garons have one daughter, Lisa Marie.

Memorial Day

Chairman Roger W. Collins of the selectmen will introduce the principle speaker of the day, Capt. Hugh F. Sager, United States Marine Corps, instructor at the Marine Corps Training Center, Lawrence.

Memorial wreaths will be placed by Commander-Elect Patrick M. Flynn, of V.F.W. Post 2128 and Commander Wilfred Blanchette of American Legion Post 8.

The benediction will be given by Rev. J. Everett Bodge, minister of South Congregational Church.

All marching units will assemble at assigned areas to the rear of town hall at 9 a.m., with the parade scheduled to step off sharply at 9:30 a.m. The route of the parade will be Park street to Florence street, to Elm street, to Main street, to Chestnut street to Whittier street to the auditorium. Following the ceremonies the parade will reform and proceed over Bartlett street to Wheeler avenue, to Main street and disband in the vicinity of Elm and Florence streets.

At 8:30 a.m. a service will be held at Memorial Hall Library. Father Holland will offer the prayer, and Commander Blanchette will deliver a eulogy. Placing of a floral tribute will be by V.F.W. Commander Flynn and Kathrine Quinn, president of the V.F.W. Auxiliary.

Post 2128 will be in charge of services at West Parish Cemetery at 7 a.m. and St. Augustine's Cemetery at 7:45 a.m.

American Legion Post 8 will be in charge of services at Spring Grove Cemetery at 7:30 a.m., at the American Legion lot and at 7:50 a.m. at the G.A.R. lot. The post will also conduct a service at South Church Cemetery at 8:15 a.m.

The Patriotic Holiday committee invites all Gold Star parents who would like to participate in the parade to contact Veterans Service officer Elmer S. Ober in the town hall in order to arrange for transportation.

Prior to Memorial Day, local veterans organizations have placed more than 1,100 flags on the graves of veterans in local cemeteries.

If anyone has knowledge of a grave not honored with a new flag, they may contact the veterans service office in town hall and a new flag will be provided.

Disposal Bids

Collection of large bulk items, such as furniture and large appliances: SCA, $3,600; Craig, $2,300; Nabydoski, $15,000 and Rocketenetz, $12,000.

Nabydoski Brothers, of Andover, who currently have the town garbage collection contract, submitted a bid of $264,000 on collection of trash only in town with disposal out of town.

Town Manager Austin said that a thorough study of the proposals would be needed before a final determination is made on solving the town's refuse problems.

Ultimate result could be the town being serviced by one or three contractors.

Austin said he feels assured that one of the main items of consideration, an out-of-town disposal site, would present no problems.

When proposed at the town meeting in March, Billerica was mentioned as the proposed out of town dump site. This still appears possible if Rocketenetz is the successful contractor.

The town will not permit disposal of garbage at its landfill site, however, which presents additional consideration by local officials in examining the proposals and deciding on a contractor.

The Rocketenetz firm was the one which sparked consideration of dumping municipal refuse elsewhere at the town meeting.

What could happen, following examination of the bids, is the town winding up with a contractor for the refuse pickup, another for garbage and a third for handling the other optional items.

As to when a contract will be awarded, the town manager could not say for sure Wednesday but indicated an intention to get the matter settled as soon as possible.

Austin was still hopeful of initiating service by July 1.

Meanwhile, the town's Chandler Road dump site stands in possible danger of being closed by state order on June 1.

The state health authorities recently issued another order to the town advising that it would rescind its assignment of the Chandler Road site as a sanitary landfill operation as of June 1.

Town officials replied to the order by the May 20 final date for appeal and now await further action by state officials.

Administration

students on projects.

An administrator will be a member of each departmental meeting, Seifert said, to keep track of what is going on, and to be able to report ideas and needs right up to the top administration.

All administrators will eventually be doing some classroom teaching, Seifert said, as he did at the high school two years ago, and expects to teach again. It has other benefits besides saving the system instructional money.

January 1, 1974, is the target date for full implementation of the organization streamlining, but the superintendent expects to have much of it in effect by September. He promised to have the reorganization package complete by the June 19 meeting, fleshed out with job descriptions.

Focusing full control and responsibility on the building principals is the key to the reorganization.

Where presently some responsibility for personnel and programs operating in a building belongs to the principal, and other responsibility belongs to directors, supervisors and coordinators of system-wide programs, the building principal soon will be responsible for everything in his building - the quality of programs, custodial care, cafeteria service, teaching, guidance and all the rest.

"The principals will be the vice-presidents of education in Andover," said Superintendent Seifert. "They will be running the store, and should be given responsibility and full control."

They will be able to do the job better, and we will be able to see clearly if the job is not being done."

Seifert calls the plan a reassessment and a cutback. "I have sympathy for the directors, supervisors and coordinators. I wish we had enough dollars to go around to keep their jobs as broad as they have been. But we don't and I don't see the picture."

They will teach half-time and service the schools in their present roles half-time. It's not easy, but in overall effectiveness and responsibility, as well as dollar savings, it's a plus for the town."

John Wragg's policy motion aimed at preventing teacher's political activity during the school day was termed "vague, indefinite and would probably be in conflict with individuals' constitutional rights," Town Counsel Alfred Daniels has informed the school department. With that news, Wragg took Chairman Frank Griggs' suggestion to withdraw the policy motion that has been a center of controversy in the past three meetings.

The secretaries and custodians' association signed contracts with the school committee during the meeting, and Committeeman William King praised both groups for their reasonable and cooperative attitudes.

Special education transportation was sewed up at last, after saga-length negotiating and discussions since midwinter.

The routes that had been put out for rebid, Routes 4 and A in town and Route 2, out-of-town, were awarded to Regional Transportation of Lawrence, Maureen J. Halloran, Contractor, for $9 a day, $21.80 a day and $14 a day, respectively.

The assistant business manager, Sam Arcidy, explained that Regional Transportation was low qualified bidder on Routes A and 2. It was chosen over Granville Cutler on Route 4, where both had $9 bids, because Regional's bid of .08 a mile on additions to the Route was lower than Cutler's .30 a mile and because the Cutler vehicle to be used already has a contract for another Route which the school considers incompatible with Route 4. Regional's drivers are the owner, Maureen Halloran, with three years experience driving special education children for L and L Transportation; Morianthy Fiorino, a driver for Mrs. Halloran since June, 1971, and Joan M. Cuddy, with two years experience driving children to the Perkins Institute for the Blind, now studying for a nursing degree.

The school committee also approved job descriptions for teacher's aides and instructional aides Tuesday night.

Volunteers Sought By Committee

The Andover school committee is looking for volunteer community talent to back up individual members who have been assigned broad areas of school committee responsibility on initiative of Chairman Dr. Frank Griggs.

The committee enthusiastically adopted member William Lane's suggestion for a subcommittee of volunteers with information or experience for each area, which the designated school committeeman can draw upon.

"The community has a wealth of information available from former school committeemen, people active in PTOs, town committees and other sources," Lane. "We would welcome volunteers so we can have more people sharing our problems. Each area committee also has an administration officer serving as liaison back to the school system."

The following assignments were made at last week's meeting:

1. Building and Grounds - William King
2. Personnel and Personnel Policies, liaison with AEA - Lyons
3. Curriculum, elementary - William Lane
4. Curriculum, secondary - William King
5. Administration and Finance - John Wragg
6. Public Information - Frank Griggs
7. Liaison with Student Advisory Council - William Lane

The seventh area was added by William Lane, who said that a mechanism was necessary to relate the committee more closely to the Student Advisory Council; he said the committee hadn't utilized the possibilities of student group's inputs this year though this was perhaps notprising in the first year.

Besides the broad assignments above, each committeeman has built up specific responsibilities: William King is already assigned liaison with St. Augustine's negotiations with secretaries; custodians; West Elementary and Shawshen PTOs and liaison with the G.L.R.V.T.H.S. (School).

William Lane is liaison with the Shawshen-Doherty Building Committee; the regional Health committee; Sanborn West Junior High P.T.O.s; the Fincom-School committee budget subcommittee.

John Wragg is assigned to East Junior High School Advisory Council and the Barn P.T.O. John Lyons is liaison with St. Augustine's and a member of the South School and Doherty School P.T.O.s.

Dr. Griggs has been negotiating, the Shawshen-Doherty Building Committee; Voke School liaison; the Fincom-School committee budget subcommittee and the P.T.O. advisory council.

Volunteers Sought By Committee

The Andover school committee is looking for volunteer community talent to back up individual members who have been assigned broad areas of school committee responsibility on the initiative of Chairman Dr. Frank Griggs.

The committee enthusiastically adopted member William Lane's suggestion for a small committee of volunteers with information or experience for each area, which the designated school committeeman can draw upon.

"The community has a wealth of information available from former school committeemen, people active in PTOs, town committees and other sources," said Lane. "We would welcome volunteers so we can have more people sharing our problems." Each area committee also will have an administration official, serving as liaison back to the school system.

The following area assignments were made at last week's meeting:

1. Building and Grounds - William King
2. Personnel and Personnel policies, liaison with AEA - John Lyons
3. Curriculum, elementary - William Lane
4. Curriculum, secondary - William King
5. Administration and Finance - John Wragg
6. Public Information - Dr. Frank Griggs
7. Liaison with Student Advisory Council - William Lane

The seventh area was added by Lane, who said that a mechanism was necessary to relate the committee more closely to this Student Advisory Council; he felt the committee hadn't fully utilized the possibilities of the student group's inputs this year, though this was perhaps not surprising in the first year.

Besides the broad area assignments above, each committeeman has built up other specific responsibilities: William King is already assigned to liaison with St. Augustine's; negotiations with secretaries and custodians; West Elementary and Shawsheen PTOs and liaison with the G.L.R.V.T.H.S. (Voke School).

William Lane is liaison with the Shawsheen-Doherty Building Committee; the regional Mental Health committee; Sanborn and West Junior High P.T.O.s; and the Fincom-School committee budget subcommittee.

John Wragg is assigned to the East Junior High School Advisory Council and the Bancroft P.T.O. John Lyons is liaison with St. Augustine's and a member of the South School and Doherty School P.T.O.s.

Dr. Griggs has AEA negotiations, the Shawsheen-Doherty Building Committee; Voke School liaison; the Fincom School committee budget subcommittee and the P.T.O. Advisory council.

Planning Studies Available

Four completed planning consultant studies have been submitted to the Andover Planning Board and may be examined by interested citizens at the Planning Board office (second floor, Town Hall) of Memorial Hall Library. The Planning Board thanks the numerous town officials and the many volunteers who contributed to these studies. The studies received are:

Andover Central Business District Parking Study: The total parking supply in the CBD exceeds demand, but specific deficient locations are identifiable. Deficiencies exist among both long-term and short-term parking areas. Many deficiencies are due to poor location of existing parking supply. If expected development takes place within the CBD additional parking spaces will be needed according to the study.

Andover Central Business District Plan: Andover favors a single major concentration of commercial, business and governmental activities. The study estimated that the business floor space needed in the Andover CBD in the year 1992 will be approximately 20 to 25 percent greater than the 456,000 square feet now available.

Existing general business zoned land could accommodate such an increase under existing zoning regulations. The main problem is one of parking, i.e., the distribution of the supply of parking spaces to meet specific site parking needs and minimize walking distances.

Lowell Junction Access Study: Report analyzed four alternative means of improved access to the Lowell Junction Industrial Area: Findings indicated that a new interchange on Interstate 93, connecting to Burt Road would provide the best access. The proposed interchange had the best user cost-benefit ratio and the fewest environmental constraints of all the alternatives considered. The study recommended that funding for the interchange be sought through State and Federal sources.

Capital Improvements Program: The CIP is a scheduled, comprehensive program to develop and finance major physical projects necessary to solve current Town problems and meet future needs.

The program is designed to meet requirements for heavy equipment, streets, parks, sewer and water facilities, schools, and other public needs. The primary constraints upon the Program is Andover's ability to finance such projects.

The CIP provides a general analysis of fiscal trends and conditions in Andover, as well as a timetable for recommended municipal improvements for the years 1973-1978.

The Planning Board has also received three studies from the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission. These reports may be examined at the Andover Planning Board office, Town Hall. They are:

Water Supply and Sewerage Planning in the Central Merrimack Valley Region.

Housing Inventory: Merrimack Valley Region: Report provides an inventory of housing in the region utilizing U.S. Census Data. Maps are included and data is presented by census tract. Census tracts are small, relatively permanent areas into which large cities and adjacent areas are divided for the purpose of providing comparable small-area statistics.

Regional Solid Waste Study (Draft Report): Recommends that the cities and towns of the Merrimack Valley should cooperate in the design of a long range solid waste transport / process / disposal system for the region as a whole. The concept of solid waste as a resource rather than a liability would be the primary consideration in the development of a disposal system; i.e., recycling and/or the sale of solid waste as fuel or raw material should be the primary objective. The financial arrangements proposed are that the capital cost of a regional waste facility would be on a "fair-share" basis for all communities except the host community (city or town where the facility is located). The host community would pay nothing toward the capital cost and the annual operating costs, but would retain all profits from the salable products of the solid waste facility.

ABC Group To Honor Graduates

The annual meeting of the Andover Committee for A Better Chance program will be held Tuesday, May 29 at 7:30 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium of Phillips Academy.

Included in the program will be the honoring and recognition of this year's seniors, Carnell Cooper, who will enter Yale; Archie McLean, Bowdoin; Tony Richardson, Reed College and Charles Rogers, Drexel Institute of Technology.

George H. Bixby will extend greetings and give his report as president of AC/ABC for the past year. Financial reports will be given by Joyce Andrew and the report of the nominating committee and elections will be by William Scheerer.

William Berkeley, president of ABC, Boston, will be the speaker for the session and will discuss the ABC program, present and future.

A fund raising report will be given by S. Leonard Kent.

Maximum weekly benefits for temporary total disability under workmen's compensation vary from $175 in Alaska to $56 in Mississippi.

8 Dual Education Concepts Favored Survey Finds

Andover should provide both "traditional" and "open" approaches to education in each of its schools, or risk serious citizen dissatisfaction, the Climate for Learning questionnaire subcommittee told the school committee last week.

Donald Mulvey's subcommittee was reporting its conclusions and recommendations from results of its community attitude questionnaire on the climate for learning in Andover, administered last winter to provide the school committee with more information about what townspeople want from and in their schools.

Parents should be more involved with children's disciplinary problems at school, the subcommittee also recommended, suggesting a strict rule that parents be called on a student's second offense, and records be kept of the number of calls necessary, to help assess the size of the discipline problem.

Improved communications about the schools was the third recommendation of the subcommittee - by encouragement of PTOs and PTAs to go beyond the superficial to serious in-depth considerations of real concerns which the Climate for Learning questionnaire has turned up - such as guidance, discipline, and what many respondents see as over-emphasis on college preparation at the expense of vocational orientation.

"There is no lack of talk about the schools and their problems, but there is a real lack of serious consideration of constructive solutions as opposed to easy answers," said the subcommittee report. Subcommittee chairman Mulvey and Climate for Learning Chairman Garry Stephens said that their results were delayed when the computer for which the questionnaire had been designed, to get correlations, had moved out of town after the questionnaire. But Mulvey said that also the committee started slowly because they had the same divergence in the committee that showed up in the town at large: it took time to learn to stop pushing their own preferences and really listen to each other - a very valuable lesson that impressed on them both the problem and the necessity for better communication.

The questionnaire showed "traditional" versus "open" was the primary concern of the town at the time the poll was taken. It was also the area the subcommittee felt engendered the most confusion about the meaning of terms used. The committee saw no mandate in the questionnaire results in which a majority (52 percent) of respondents favored traditional, and a sizeable minority favored either "open" (34 percent) or "other" (10 percent). 75 percent of the answers favored the concept of individualized instruction.

Parents from Bancroft and South, open education schools at the time of the poll, favored open education over traditional by 2-1, Mulvey reported, while parents at the more traditionally oriented schools leaned the opposite way, with the high school parents most strongly for traditional. Mulvey concluded that Andover families who have tried the more open approach heavily favor it, but Chairman Dr. Griggs said you could also say that families who had traditional favor it - people like what they are used to.

Guidance is an area of real concern in town, the questionnaire subcommittee found, ranking fifth in "problem areas," right behind the three Ds of discipline, drugs and disrespect, and finances. Questionnaire respondents ranking the six areas of guidance counseling put "personal and emotional" a close second in importance to "educational and curriculum" so the conclusion is that townspeople look for a change in direction and emphasis in guidance, particularly at the secondary level. Persons dissatisfied with the schools' training for college preparation or vocational orientation felt there was overemphasis on college prep and not enough on vocational orientation.

Confusion of terms is a stumbling block to vitally important communication about education within the town of Andover, the subcommittee concluded, and several school committeemen and members of the audience added their similar convictions.

Mulvey and Climate for Learning Chairman Garry Stephens said many townspeople are confused about what they themselves and others mean by such words as "traditional," "open," "flexible," and even "discipline." For example, 10 percent of the 1854 respondents (out of 25,000 questionnaires sent out) said discipline was one of the major problems in schools. Yet on a later question, 70 percent said that discipline was handled "just about right" in the schools they were most familiar with.

Dr. Seifert, commending the committee on taking the first step in knocking on the doors of Andover, said the next step was for PTOs to deal directly with the school organization at the district school level, in asking each other "What do you mean when you say such and such?" - to try to eliminate some of the confusion over terms that have been revealed.

The questionnaire had its critics among audience members. Some questioned validity because of confusion over intangible terms; some, like William Igoe, job supervisor in the schools and former guidance director, over whether 12 percent is enough of a return to be valid. Mulvey noted that 56 percent of the 1854 respondents said they had attended the last town meeting, so the sampling was of people concerned about town affairs and school matters, and also is larger than attendance at most town meetings.

Garry Stephens, backed by Committeeman John Wragg, said that his research showed that 12 percent was a normal return to a survey of this sort, taken when no far-reaching town decision had hung immediately on the returns. William King was guarded about hard and fast conclusions from the returns, considering the difficulty he had had answering some questions; he suggested computer correlations would be valuable when they could be obtained. William Lane supported the conclusions and recommendations and said communications with the community were difficult: "The same people seem to show up at every meeting to badger me or support me. How do we reach the mass of people?" John Wragg said the questionnaire returns showed he had some company in his ideas.

Of course everyone reads statistical results his own way. The biggest laugh in the good natured evening's discussion came when Chairman Dr. Frank Griggs, declaring himself Mr. Average Andover Citizen, said he was encouraged by finding that "On positions I have been stating all along, I am not alone" - only to be one-upmanned by Dr. Kenneth Seifert's hearty, "Exactly my thought, Frank!", which brought down the house. That's the only time the chairman was topped, though. It was a good night for Griggs one-liners.

The last word on the Climate for Learning was a serious historical view on school-community communications, which Dr. Griggs elicited from William King, the committeeman with the longest span on the board. King told the audience that in early years he had sat on the board, the committee had operated in a vacuum of public opinion, sometimes voting with trepidation, having to rely solely on their own judgment, with the feeling that no one in town really cared about the decisions.

"I personally am delighted to see people coming out, it gives us guidance. We have the public opinion that we hadn't before. The real mandate is from the people is to get across what's going on in Andover schools. We have an extremely good school system. No one has any idea who hasn't read about education widely. If we can get more people to read more things, about other schools as well as ours, then they'll appreciate both the dilemmas and the progress we have."

Music Prize Competition At Academy

On Sunday afternoon, June 3, at 2:30 p.m., P.A. students will compete for three music prizes of $100 each in Kemper Auditorium on Chapel Avenue, opposite the Andover Inn. Each student will be allowed seven minutes to perform.

The Bassett Watts Hough Prize will be offered for the second year for playing of a wind instrument. The Milton Collier Prize will be offered for the 27th year, for playing of the piano. The Charles Cutter Prize will be offered for the 48th year for playing of a string instrument.

At the end of the competition four additional music prizes will be awarded by William B. Clift, Jr., Chairman of the Music Department. These include the Poynter Prize for the most useful member of the Choir, the Jones Prize for the most useful member of the Orchestra, and the Kibrick Prize for the most useful member of the Band. The Fuller Music Prize of $350 will also be awarded to a student who has demonstrated high character and special musical aptitude. The recipient will assume responsibility for playing the carillon in the Memorial Tower for the year 1973-1974.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no charge for admission.

"From 1960 to 1970 expenses from auto injuries rose as follows:

Doctors fees, up 56%
Hospital room, up 151%
Meanwhile, the average insurance claim rose 54%, but Auto Bodily Injury Liability rates rose only 51%. Can more careful driving and stable medical costs alone keep auto insurance rates from rising?"

ENVIRONMENTAL CONCERN was the subject this spring for members of Den 5, Cub Pack 102 Bancroft School. An exhibit of their work is currently on display at Memorial Hall Library. Joe Gemmell, a member of the den, arranges a part of the presentation.

Ecology Subject For Den 5

"Recycle, pollution and conservation," key works of 1973 but what do they mean to nine and ten year old boys?

Cub Scouts of Den 5, Pack 102 of Bancroft school, worked on conservation and nature projects this month in keeping with the theme, "America The Beautiful." The boys learned about the ecology subjects and worked on ways to promote conservation at home and at the school.

To aid in beautifying the school, flowers were planted. In March the boys made window boxes for their homes and are currently caring for their gardens. They also planted pine seedlings in Harold Parker State Forest, and participated in nature walks.

The pack members worked on several other nature and conservation projects and exhibits of their work are currently on display at Memorial Hall library.

Members of Den five, Pack 102 are Mark Easton, Jeff Orrell, Kevin Bates, Joey Gemmell, Carmen Scarpa, Trippy Soule, Mark Orrell, Joshua Reynolds.

LIBRARY INSTRUCTION. Mrs. Sue Eldridge of the Children's room at Memorial Hall Library provides some information for members of the West Parish Nursery school during the visit to the library this week.

Visit To Library

The Children's Room of the Library provided the setting for boys and girls of West Parish Nursery school.

This was the second visit by the class, to the library this year. The pleasant surroundings of the Children's Room combined with the talents and enthusiasm of the librarians, made the world of books come alive for the youngsters.

Other excursions taken this year by the class include: a skating party, a trip to a local supermarket, an Italian Bakery, the Andover Fire Station, a bus trip to the Aquarium in Boston, and a visit to the Lawrence General Hospital.

West Parish Nursery also held an open house on May 4.

Gwenneth L. Brown

Receives Associate Degree

Gwenneth L. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Brown, of 92 Central St., Andover, was awarded an Associate in Arts degree, magna cum laude, in Medical Assistant at the 136th commencement exercises at Green Mountain College, Poultney, Vt., May 19.

While a student at Green Mountain, she was a member of Green Key and Phi Theta Kappa. She was also honored outstanding academic achievement in Business and Secretarial Studies.

The commencement speaker was the noted CBS correspondent George Herman, currently moderator of the weekly television show, "Face the Nation."

Mrs. Pike Appointed At School

Mrs. Walter N. Pike has been named Business Manager of the Pike School by Headmaster Raymond A. Nelson, it has been announced. In announcing the appointment Nelson said, "The appointment makes formal recognition of Mrs. Pike's invaluable service to the school dating back to 1958 and expands the jurisdiction of her current professional responsibilities." Until the time of her appointment to the new position, Mrs. Pike has served the school as senior executive secretary and bookkeeper.

Mrs. Pike is a life long resident of Andover and graduated from Punchard High School. She completed her studies at the Chandler Secretarial School in Boston. For six years she worked in the Dean of Students office at Phillips Academy and after taking several years out to care for her family, she returned in 1957 to work at the Academy in the Treasurer's office and in the Music Department.

Before coming to Pike School in 1958, she spent a year working for Rowland Industries in Lawrence. For many years now, Mrs. Pike has been a proctor for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (College Boards) and the Secondary School Admission Test administered each year at Phillips Academy.

Mrs. Pike was widowed in 1971 upon the sudden death of her husband, Walter. She lives on Pine Street in Andover with her two daughters, Julie, who works for the American Red Cross Blood Program in Boston, and Nancy, a senior at the University of Massachusetts.

Her husband, Walter, was the son of Mrs. Cynthia E. Pike, the foundress of the Pike School in 1926. He was one of the six students who comprised the original first grade class which was the nucleus for the school to come.

At present the Pike School, whose business affairs Mrs. Pike will administer together with the Headmaster, has grown to become a regional day school of some 380 students who live in the surrounding communities of the Merrimack Valley as well as in the initial areas of Andover and North Andover. The school occupies a 30-acre campus which, with its buildings, is valued at better than a million dollars.

Mrs. Pike first represented the school in her new capacity at a meeting of the business managers at the annual spring meeting of the Massachusetts Association of Independent Schools held recently at Walnut Hill School in Natick.

Miss Chory St. Mary's Graduate

Mary Ann Chory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Chory, 466 Massachusetts Ave., North Andover, received her degree Magna Cum Laude from St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana, during commencement exercises, May 19.

Miss Chory, a mathematics major, has been inducted in Kappa Gamma Pi, a national Catholic women's honor society. To be considered for membership, a student must be in the top ten percent of her graduating class and demonstrate leadership ability.

12 Fashion Show Highlights

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 24, 1973

Spring Into Spring Fashion Show and Dance, Parents Without Partners, Merrimack Valley Chapter 136 had their first fashion show Saturday, May 19, at the Wallbrook Restaurant. The clothes were from a Chelmsford department store. Moderator, Fay Trent did a gymnastic routine on toning the body. Models for the show, all PWP members, held the attention of the audience, modeling a variation of all sizes, both men and women's fashions. The models were Peg Poverchuk, Angie Cromaler, Pat Young, Maggie Ducharme, Carol Wojtkum, Ginger Abrams, Jack Lord, Frank McLain, Miles Wasserman, and Bob Mullen.

This very successful event was followed by a dance where dessert and coffee were served. The profit of this fun evening will benefit the Children's Fund.

Chairman of the show was Eleanor Dubois, and her committee consisted of Terry Reedy, Ginger Abrams, and Dick Bullock.

To Assist Children's Office

The Office for Children and St. Ann's Home of Methuen are jointly sponsoring an information and assistance service designed to link children needing services to resources in the northeastern region of the state. Through a joint agreement, two "children's advocates" have been hired to respond to phone calls from parents, agencies and young people seeking services.

"Through the cooperation of St. Ann's Home and its Director, Dr. Larry Larsen, it is now possible for the Office for Children to begin a 'Help for Children' service to respond to the many people in this area who don't know where to go for services for their children," said Edward Raynard, Regional Director of the Office for Children. "Help for Children is not meant to replace existing agency networks, with whom we plan to work out a cooperative relationship."

"Help for Children provides an additional resource to fill the gaps, and will offer follow-through and staff assistance in making a referral," he added.

Dr. Larry Larsen, Director of St. Ann's Home, said that the Help for Children staff members provided by the agreement are William Armstrong and Ellen Havelock, and that they will work out of the Office for Children regional office in Topsfield. The Help for Children number is 887-6501.

"This agreement is a unique kind of cooperation between a public agency and a private one," said Dr. Larsen. "It's one of a whole variety of things we're doing to become more community oriented."

St. Ann's provides residential and day treatment programs for children with emotional problems.

Councillor Selected For Honor

Thomas A. Fulham, President of Suffolk University and the Board of Trustees have notified Governor's Councillor Thomas J. Lane that he has been selected to serve as the University Marshall at the Suffolk University Commencement Exercises which will be held at The John B. Hynes Veterans' Auditorium in the Prudential Building, Boston, on Sunday, June 10 at 2 p.m.

The position of University Marshall is essentially honorary, given each year to an outstanding alumnus of the University.

Attention Is Focused On Summer Planning

by Gary C. Ralph

Right now all of our attention and energies in the Recreation/Community School Department are focused on the weeks between July 2 and Aug. 24.

The School Department is a 12 year veteran of Summer School programs, both remedial and enrichment. This year with their cooperation and help we've assumed the direction of the Interest/Enrichment part of the program.

We have worked closely with the School Department to design a program that is supportive and coordinated with Summer School. This program will be offered at West Elementary School in the same time blocks. We have taken these Interest/Enrichment programs and made them mobile. The prototype West Elementary School program will be brought to four other locations, West Jr. High School, East Jr. High School, Sanborn School and Ballardvale Community Center. The same instructors and staff, many of them School Department employees, will travel to the different locations on staggered schedules. All the benefits of the summer Interest/Enrichment activities will be taken out to the neighborhoods. With the Recreation/Community School Department's coordinated, free bus service there should be no reason why any child who wishes to participate is denied the opportunity.

Meanwhile the regular playground program of sports and crafts and games and bike hikes is available to children who prefer a less structured day or who want to take advantage of only one or two enrichment courses.

On this Friday and Saturday, the Summer School secretary, Jane Schultze, the Recreation/Community School secretary, Mary Ellen Osgood, as well as Charles Donovan, Director of Summer School and myself will be available to assist you in registering your children for both School Dept. and Rec/C.S. courses, in the faculty room of West Elementary School. We'll be there to help you make the best choices of Interest/Enrichment courses to supplement Summer School requirements. We can suggest which location, in terms of bus service, might be most convenient for a child who is not registering for Summer School courses.

I hope that you will come by Friday or Saturday if you have any questions or problems. We'll be glad to help.

Confirmation, Festival Services

Shavuot Festival of Weeks, is the third of the agriculturally based festivals of the Jewish year. Following seven weeks after Passover, this harvest festival serves again to remind the Jewish people of the closeness of our ancestors to the soil, and their dependence on nature for their livelihood. Shavuot, Passover and Sukot are characterized "pilgrim festivals," for on these days Jews from all sections of Palestine brought thanksgiving offerings of their harvests to the Temple in Jerusalem.

Not only does Shavuot carry the message of nature, but a spiritual dimension was later added, that of the anniversary of the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai. In a sense, it is the spiritual and cultural aspect of Shavuot that has helped the holiday to gain its present significance.

Early nineteenth century Reform Jews, seeking to give women equal status in all religious obligations, created the ceremony of confirmation for both boys and girls on the holiday of Shavuot. Just as Moses received the Torah on Sinai according to traditional legend, and subsequently passed it to each succeeding generation of Jews, boys and girls completing their formal religious studies accepted the Torah on Shavuot.

Confirmation has now become an integral part of the observance of the Festival of weeks in all Liberal Congregations.

At Temple Emanuel of Lawrence, the following students will be confirmed at the Festival Services on Tuesday evening, June 5, at 7 p.m.

Jeffrey Berenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Berenson; Paul Bloom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bloom; Edward Eisenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eisenberg; David Feingold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Feingold; Jeffrey Labell, son of Atty. and Mrs. Joel Labell; Pamela Lebowitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Lebowitz; Karyl Levinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levinson; Ina Loeb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Loeb; Neil Mufson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mufson; Caren Ponty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ponty; Karen Shack, daughter of Atty. and Mrs. Norman Shack; Leonard Shaker, son of Atty. and Mrs. Burton Shaker; Scott Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sherman; Nicki Silverman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Silverman; Margo Simon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simon;

Toby Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stein; Myrna Strauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strauss; Sharyn Taymor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Traub; Arnold Warshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Warshaw; Karen Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Weber.

The search for new religious forms has wrought radical changes in Confirmation ceremonies through the country. In some synagogues, the young people write their own service; in others, the day has taken on a greater importance as a time of commitment to study in the tradition of the Jewish people. In every congregation, confirmation has developed into a renewed search for Jewish identity among young people.

Concluding services for the Festival will be held on Wednesday morning, June 6, at 10:30 a.m. This family service conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth and assisted by Cantor Irving Shuman will also include Yizkor Memorial Prayers.

Flower Supply Limited

With the Memorial Day weekend creating one of the year's biggest demands for flowers, the wise buyer will order as early as possible, says the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA). Like every other crop, the supply of fresh flowers has a limit, and late buyers may find their choice restricted.

If special flower arrangements are desired, certainly it makes good sense to call ahead or drop in on your florist or nurseryman.

The supply of fresh, locally-grown flowers and plants is good, but some varieties will be found not too plentiful this week. The story remains the same: erratic spring weather cuts down the harvest. (Is there any other kind of spring weather in Massachusetts than erratic?)

Native rhubarb is in good supply this week. Juicy, tender, sweet and nutritious, fresh rhubarb makes a wonderful sauce, excellent pie, with or without strawberries. You'll find it at most roadside and farm stands, and in the majority of supermarkets. Considering today's economic conditions, the price is fair... and a little goes a long way.

Memorial Day is the traditional weekend for putting those plants out that can suffer from frost. Tomatoes, peppers, eggplant and summer squash can go into your garden next week.

At least that's what the weather records tell us. A snowstorm in central New York on May 17--latest on record, apparently--makes one wonder. But vegetable plants set out after May 25 should be quite safe.

A wide, excellent choice of plants--both vegetable and flower--is available right now at nursery centers, farm stands, supermarkets, and even some well-known "discount" stores.

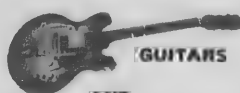

Knock last year's dirt off the trowel, and get going. Good luck and good eating!

Sometimes people find it easier to grasp an opportunity than to let go.

Students Become Executives

Greater Lawrence area students took over the management of the Telephone Company recently.

Nine seniors including Carlene A. O'Brien from Andover High School, participated in the New England Telephone Telfad program.

This program, Telephone Executive Leader For a Day, exposes students to a large corporation and gives them an insight into multi-management supervision. It familiarizes them with the daily operation of a large company and emphasizes the importance of good communication and cooperation between departments to get a job done properly.

After a day and a half of practical on-the-job experience, students had the opportunity to get together, and discuss what they had done, with other students and Telephone personnel.

The program ended with a luncheon at the Butcher Boy Steak House in North Andover, where the participants were presented with certificates of achievement.

Athens In Georgia

The Athens of modern ecology is in Georgia.

The academe of the movement lies at the University of Georgia. And the Plato who converts a growing body of disciples is Eugene Pleasants Odum. For more than two decades, Dr. Odum has wrestled with the flow of basic energy. More of that later.

Dr. Odum has been cursed with original thinking, an affliction that requires much energy to sustain. He seems capable of coping, however, since papers flow from the Institute of Ecology, which he heads, like snowflakes from a blizzard.

To Dr. Odum the flow of energy through all systems, natural and artificial, is so obvious that it puzzles him when he discovers fellow men who are less discerning. He knows, however, that he is not alone in sometimes being misunderstood. He recalls with some humor the experience of a fellow ecologist who wrote a comprehensive volume on the ecology of North America. The author was confident that he had presented in great simplicity all major components of ecological knowledge. With publication, the author's confidence melted into dismay. Even experts in the field were uncertain of his conclusions and his supposed orderliness had thrown the existing disorder into chaos.

Dr. Odum has had better success in explaining his own principles. One of his basic concepts has gained increasing acceptance both among those learned in science and those who shudder when they hear the word "science." That concept is:

Energy, ecology and economics all are the same thing!

Threat Of Junior High Budget Cuts Draws Crowd

Rumors that Andover's 7th and 8th grade athletic programs have been singled out for the axe because of a large school budget deficit filled the school committee room with an overflow crowd Tuesday evening.

The salary deficit of more than $100,000 is real, not rumor.

It's because the basic salary figure at which the school committee has tentatively settled with its teachers, secretaries and custodians is more than $100,000 higher than the figure the FinCom and school committee planners estimated and put in the town meeting warrant. Now the school department must make cuts to avoid an end of year deficit.

The junior high programs have not been singled out for radical surgery, Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert told the crowd Tuesday night, but they are under scrutiny along with every program in the system. Building principals are under the gun to conduct intense budget reviews, and set priorities, so decisions can be made.

Business Manager Ed Weil told the TOWNSMAN no decisions on cuts have been made at this point, but he expects decisions within the next two weeks, so planning for next year's programs can get under way.

"This is a process. It's just that scrutiny of the 7th and 8th grade athletic programs, and only those, got picked up when this process had just begun. Every program is being looked at for savings."

The administrative reorganization announced only Tuesday night already is taking effect, the TOWNSMAN discovered. Physical Education and Athletic Director Richard Seift was slated to meet East and West Junior High principals Dr. Richard McGrail and William Hart Wednesday on the 7th and 8th grade programs. He told the TOWNSMAN the three would cross their priorities with his departmental priorities, but the two principals now had the responsibility for deciding on the programs in their own buildings, which is probably good, from the point of view of the total student program.

Swift, Hart and McGrail all want to maintain the successful 7th and 8th grade programs if possible, and the two principals went to the meeting hoping to figure out a way to share and double up on staffing to save the programs, if salary cuts in this area prove necessary. Other programs reportedly face the same kind of review as the athletics, and each principal in the system is expected to join the dollar hunt.

June 27 - Visit to Historical Society 2-4 p.m.

Varied Species Observed

The fourth Sunday morning walk of the Merrimack Valley Bird Club was held on May 27 at the Harold Parker State Forest. The walk was in conjunction with the Massachusetts Audubon Society's state wide Birdwalk.

Forty-one species were seen during the two hour walk of trail around Stearns Pond. Highlights of the trip were Yellow-throated Vireos with only nest in the forest in region, a Winter Wren which heard singing its long tink song, three varieties of thrushes, the Wood, Hermit and the twelve different warblers including the Tennessee, a northern migrant with a strident chattering song, the brilliant orange-throated Blackbird and the sparrow pattern teaterring. North Waterthrush, and jewel colored Scarlet Tanager and a Cream Flycatcher which traditionally lined its nest with a snake but sometimes recently has been found to recycle a piece of cellophane.

Group Visits Museum

On Tuesday, May 15, new members of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts from the Greater Lawrence area spent another in a series of enjoyable and instructive days at the Museum.

Mrs. Nancy Webb, a Research Assistant in the Department of American Decorative Arts, guided the local group through galleries in her department and introduced them to some of the many masterpieces of American cabinetwork and silver which the Boston Museum possesses. Among the highlights pointed out on the tour were furniture and silver by great craftsmen such as the Seymours, McIntire and Revere. Particular attention was focused on the newly opened American period rooms and a special exhibit of Sandwich glass.

After luncheon each member was afforded free time to visit exhibits of individual interest.

The tour concluded this year's schedule of trips to the Museum. A regular program on a set day of the month is being planned for next season. All major departments in the Museum will be visited.

Car pools will be arranged for the convenience of the local participants.

Present and prospective Museum members from the Greater Lawrence area who wish to be included are urged to contact Mrs. John J. McArdle, Jr., 47 Central St., Andover.

Mrs. Frederick Myers

Married In Haverhill

Dorothy Albertson, former manager of the Lorraine Roy Shop in Andover, was married to Frederick Myers of Groveland, May 6 by Rabbi Abraham Jacobson.

Mr. Myers operates the Groveland Pharmacy.

A reception at the Red Tavern, Methuen, followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Myers is the mother of two daughters, Mrs. Robert Goldstein of Andover and Mrs. Barry Balan of Chelmsford. Mr. Myers has two sons, Marshall Myers of Haverhill and Warren Myers of Longmeadow.

The couple will reside in Groveland.

Auction Offerings On Exhibit

Art enthusiasts, auction buffs, and anyone who simply can't wait for the excitement of the annual Channel 2 Auction will have the opportunity to preview over three hundred of the choicest paintings, objects d'art and antiques at the Auction Art Preview Exhibition, now at Boston's Prudential Center through Tuesday, May 29, noon to eight p.m.

Viewers may inspect items at the preview and place written bids on any that strike their fancy. On-air bidding will start at the highest written bid made during the Preview Exhibition.

Among those whose work is displayed at the Preview Exhibition from Merrimack Valley are: Marietta Amy and David Sullivan of Andover.

"Art Sunday" has been designated as Sunday, June 3 of Auction Week. Bidding will begin at 1 p.m. and continue for twelve hours on over six hundred works of art, crafts and antiques. Tight Race In American Minors

In a rain shortened week, the Patriots defeated the Angels to tighten up the American Minor race.

	W-L
Senators	4-1
Angels	3-1
Tigers	3-2
Yankees	2-2
Patriots	2-3
Red Sox	2-3
White Sox	2-3
Orioles	1-4

Senators 13, Patriots 12. Robyn Brody drove in the winning run in the last of the sixth inning to squeak out the victory over the Patriots. Michael Starr led the Senators attack with four hits while Jay Wallis and Scott Elliott hit triples. The Patriots were led by Gusmini with four hits, Beaty with three hits, Sirois with two doubles, and Berger with a triple. Chris Carlson and Steve Rathbun combined to pitch the victory for the Senators.

Tigers 10, Red Sox 5. Karl Reinker pitched six innings for the Tigers and was tough in the clutch, while Russell Bird and Barry Goodman pitched well for the Red Sox. The Tigers were led by Joel Smith with two long doubles and Ira Gold with two timely hits. The Red Sox hitters were paced by Terry Reilly.

White Sox 5, Orioles 4. In a tight game that was 4-4, going into the last of the sixth, Ken Levanti walked and Mike Dion doubled him home for the victory. Levanti pitched the entire game and was strong throughout. Gerry Jannetti hit a bases loaded double to lead the White Sox attack. Gil Nicholas had two hits for the Orioles who also got good pitching performances from Gil Nicholas and Neale Grippi.

Angels 13, Yankees 13. The Yankees forced a tie game by scoring six runs in the last of the sixth inning to tie the score with the previously undefeated Angels. The Yankees were led by Vinnie Keegan with a home run. The Angels got big doubles from Mike Murray and Rick Marciano.

Senators 9, Yankees 3. The Senators moved into first place on the strong pitching of Chris Carlson who pitched three innings striking out six and allowing no hits. Steve Rathbun pitched the last three innings and struck out seven. The Yankees got their first hit with two out in the sixth when Gregg Praetz hit a double and Bram followed with a single for the only two hits by the Yankees. Senators hitting stars were Chris Carlson with two hits, Michael Starr with two hits, and Jay Wallis and Scott Elliott with doubles. Vinnie Keegan came on in relief for the Yankees after the Senators had scored nine runs and shut them out the rest of the way, but the damage had been done.

Tigers 12, White Sox 5. The Tiger hitters were Rich Callaghan with three hits, Terry Reilly with four hits, and Joe Smith with four hits and eight RBI's. Rich Callaghan pitched a strong game for the Tigers. The White Sox were led by Mike Dion with a double, Ken Levanti with two hits, and John Amboian with three hits.

Red Sox 10, Orioles 8. The Red Sox were on a home run barrage as they overwhelmed the Orioles. David Umanzio hit a grand slam home run. Barry Goodman was 3 for 3 with a home run, and David Schreinstian also clouted a home run. The Orioles were led by Jim Allen with a triple and a single, Mike Franese with three hits including a triple, and John Sloan with a triple and a single. The Red Sox pitchers were Russell Bird and Barry Goodman while Neale Grippi and Eddie Berry toiled for the Orioles.

Patriots 24, Angel 9. The Patriots handed the Angels their first defeat in four games. The Patriots were paced by Mel Berger with a home run and a single and David Gusmini who went four for four and was a standout at second base. Richard Dalton pitched two innings and Mel Berger pitched four innings, striking out eight. The Angels got some heavy hitting from Rich Rotolo and Rick Marciano who clouted home runs, but it was too little too late.

Astros 11, Giants 10 - Matthew Carroll and David Marsden shared the pitching honors as the Astros eked out a close victory over the Giants. Scott Harris and Eric Darby lashed out home runs to spark the offense while Tommy Fox and Tony Frank each with outstanding catches tied for the Golden Glove Award.

Sean Flanagan doubled and tripled knocking in 4 runs, Scott Boucher punched out 3 hits accounting for 4 more RBIs while Dave Grant doubled and knocked in 2 runs to lead the Giants' attack.

Braves 6, Dodgers 0 - Robby Serbagi, Chris Witt and Jim Gardner shared in a superb pitching effort while Richard Neville and Bill Scheerer banded out home runs as the Braves outclassed a fine Dodger team. Mike Donehue sparked defensively at shortstop and also contributed 2 solid hits for the winners.

Greg Russell and David Chechik hurled well for the losers.

Phillies 15, Redlegs 5 - Dan D'Amelio clouted a bases loaded triple and Charles Kolodgy lined 2 solid hits to lead the offensive barrage behind the neat and nifty pitching of Matt Cremonni as the Phillies subdued the Redlegs.

Paul Sirois wielded a big bat in starring for the losers.

Pirates 19, Cardinals 14 - The league leading Pirates losing 12-3 after 2 innings of play performed like true champions as they battled uphill to victory. The offensive charge was led by the booming bats of Philip Kirkland, Matt Tomlinson and Ted Teichert each of whom clouted a 4 bagger. Both Philip Kirkland on the mound and Andy Cobin behind the plate performed handsomely.

Scott Wilson homered and Dave Bono knocked out 2 home runs one of which went completely out of the ballpark to star on offense for the losing Cards. Tim White hauled down a long fly while Eric Wilson shared a pop fly and rifled a throw to third to double up a runner to lead the Cardinal defense.

Astros 16, Redlegs 0 - Tom Edmonds notched this fine win with some excellent relief assistance from Ken Smith. The big hitters for the Astros were Brad Dee and Scott Harris both of whom homered and Danny Russo who doubled driving in 3 runs.

For the Redlegs, the one note of cheer was Robert Foley's long throw from deep center to third base to nail an aggressive base runner.

Braves 14, Cardinals 4 - The Braves pounded out a big win behind the excellent hurling of Robby Serbagi and Mark Easton. The big hitters for the winning Braves were Chris Richards with three triples, Robby Serbagi with a home run, Richard Neville with 2 doubles, Mark Easton with a triple and Mike Donehue and Robert Finlayson with a double apiece.

For the Cardinals, Jim Thompson's excellent catch of a long fly was the one bright spot.

Pirates 16, Dodgers 12 - Andy Cobin blasted out a grand slam home run and John Greco hit 2 homers as the Pirates continued to dominate the league. Philip Kirkland was the winning pitcher.

Scott Lindstrom, Ron Boothby and Dave Chechik collected 3 hits apiece including a home run by Chechik to pace the losing Dodger attack.

Astros 15, Dodgers 2 - David Marsden pitched one of the best games of the season while receiving excellent defensive support from an airtight infield. Danny Russo, Ted Paris and Scott Harris were outstanding at the plate for the winners.

Danny Dupuis and Scott Lindstrom each with a double were the big hitters for the Dodgers.

Braves 18, Giants 17 - The hard hitting Braves just defeated a valiant Giant team in a savage, see-saw slugfest. For the Braves, Mark Annick belted out 4 for 4 including 2 solid doubles and also made a fine defensive catch, Andy Weil contributed 4 safeties, while Chris Witt and Mike Donehue hit home runs. Donehue also knocked in the winning run in the last inning with a hard hit double.

Dave Menard collected 2 hits, including a triple while scoring 3 runs, Mark Robichaud banded out 3 hits and scored 2 runs, Sean Flanagan tripled and scored 3 runs, and Dave Grant bashed out one bingle for the losing Giants.

Phillies 20, Cardinals 7 - The victorious Phillies were led at the plate by Charles Kolodgy who drove out 3 hits including a home run with a man on, Sean Burt who also belted out a four bagger, Robert Johnson who chipped in 2 hits, Eric Koromhas who doubled and drove in 2 important runs. Timely hits were also delivered by Dan D'Amelio, Gerard Doyle and Gary Morrisette.

Scott Wilson clouted a grand slam homer and Tim White and Jim DePiano lashed out savage hits to stow away the offensive trophies for the losers. On defense, Fred D'Urso turned in some fine fielding at short stop while behind the plate Scott Wilson made a smart catch on a tricky pop up for the ill-fated Cards.

American League Race Hot

By Rick Harrison

A mere one-half game separates the top three teams in the Andover National Little League through action last weekend.

The Cubs and Giants are locked in a two-way tie for first place with identical 3-1 records, while the Braves are 3-2.

In the American League the Indians (3-0) and White Sox (4-1) appear to be the teams to beat.

Outstanding American League performer last week at the plate had to be White Sox lefty Ray Lynch, who slugged a pair of homeruns and two doubles while powering the Sox to a brace of victories.

The Giants' big Ed Reming hammered a three-run homer for that league's first circuit clout, and Paul Farnham of the Cubs collected his third straight pitching win.

W-L
Cubs 3-1
Giants 3-1
Braves 3-2
Mets 2-3
Pirates 2-3
Cards 1-4
Giants 8, Mets 0 - Frank "No-hit" Pelletier had to settle for a two-hit shutout this time around, stopping the Mets with nine strikeouts.

Pelletier helped his own cause with a double and two RBIs. Ed Reming unloaded his three-run homer, and Rusty Serbagi came through again with a timely hit.

Carmen Scarpa was a defensive standout for the victors, while Mets' infielder Steve Mosher played an excellent all-around game.

Cubs 8, Braves 7 - The Braves exploded for six runs in the first inning, but failed to hold the lead as the Cubs kept chipping away before finally winning the contest in extra innings.

The Cubs used three hurlers. Roy Umanzio started, was quickly relieved by Jim Guillet, and then Paul Farnham came on in the sixth to record the victory and boost his mound ledger to a perfect 3-0.

The deciding run in the seventh came about when Tom Curtin, Paul Farnham and Roy Umanzio smacked consecutive singles.

John Walsh, Andy Powell and Jim Guillet had banged out earlier hits for the Cubs, and Curtin scored four times in the game.

Marty Solomon belted a double and single for the Braves. John Sagaser and Bill Calthroupe had the other safeties. B.J. Staid was the losing chucker in relief.

Solomon made several outstanding defensive plays from the mound, while centerfielder Bob Conroy played well for the Cubs.

Pirates 12, Cubs 10 - The Pirates, in winning their second straight, ended the Cubs' dreams of a perfect season.

But it didn't happen easily because the Pirates held an 11-2 lead at one time before the Cubs began chipping away again.

Paul Bracken, the first of three Pirate chucks, got the mound victory. He was followed by Steve Serley and Len Driscoll, both of whom experienced some difficulty with their control.

Jim Detrolia sparked a 15-hit Pirates' attack with a 4-for-4 performance, including two hits and four RBIs in the same inning.

Len Driscoll almost hit for the cycle, slamming a single, double and three-run triple. Kevin Muldoon was 2-for-4 and Steve Serley drilled a two-bagger.

For the Cubs, who scored six runs in the fourth with only one hit, Paul Farnham doubled and Andy Powell laced two safeties.

Detrolia completed a productive morning by starring defensively at the "hot corner" for the Pirates.

Giants 3, Cards 1 - Old-time rivals Giants and Cardinals locked up in a typical pitcher's duel, with winner Rusty Serbagi getting the nod over tough-luck loser Jim Arnold.

Serbagi whiffed 10 Cards' batters in the game, while Arnold allowed only two hits in a losing cause.

Steve Moriarty and Serbagi delivered the lone Giants' safeties. Fred Foote was a defensive standout at third base, and Mike Silverman turned in a steady all-around performance for the Giants.

Tony Sanchez and Dan Grams sparked the Cards.

He also had a big hand in the winners' 13-hit attack, belting a two-run homer, double and single.

Power-hitting Jim Wetterberg drove home four White Sox runs with a triple, double and single.

Brian Bronson delivered a double for the Tigers. Dave Alexander and Ed Collins both pitched with Alexander taking the set-back.

The White Sox actually scored all the runs they would need by crossing the plate four times in the second inning.

White Sox 8, Yankees 1 - The defending American League champs continued to roll, riding Jim Wetterberg's fine one-hitter to their fourth win in five starts.

Wetterberg, in lifting his pitching mark to 3-0, fanned 11 and walked only two batters.

Ray Lynch drove in two runs with a homerun and double. Jamie Coombes lashed a three-run double and Wetterberg added a two-run double to account for all four Sox' safeties.

Yankees' losing pitcher Steve Doherty also collected their lone hit, a fifth-inning double.

Mr. Businessman:

FINANCIAL ACCURACY IS A TOUGH NUT.

UNLESS
IS YOUR NUTCRACKER.

Do you really know what has happened during a month when you close the books? Chances are you never really have a truly accurate picture of your financial situation.

In fact, most businesses don't have the financial accuracy they need for control. And getting such controls at your price is indeed a tough nut to crack.

Fortunately, an excellent "nutcracker" is now available. It's STANDARD DATA. And it works like this:

STANDARD DATA's staff of experts and its mammoth computer are available for your accounting and management systems. We've developed financial and manufacturing management programs, such as payables, receivables, payroll, even general ledger, and inventory control.

Best of all, STANDARD DATA can get cracking for you today on a job-by-job basis. So regardless of the nut you have to crack, give STANDARD DATA a crack at it . . . it only costs peanuts.

I'm interested in the STANDARD DATA approach. Please send me more information about how your "nutcracker" can help solve our problem in the area of:

☐ Payroll ☐ Inventory Control ☐ Cost of Sales ☐ Bill of Mat'l's

Boston on May 3 to have lunch at a Spanish Restaurant, la Casa Romero on Gloucester Street. The group left at 8:45 and split up. One busload toured the Museum of Fine Arts with Miss Genovese viewing paintings of Picasso and el Greco and another to the Boston Public Library to see a film and hear a talk on Mexico.

Those who went to the Museum enjoyed the tour. Although many of us have been before, each time one may see something that he had missed before.

The highlight of the trip was our visit to the restaurant. The Spanish decor was beautifully elegant with many colorful tiles and wall hangings of Don Quiote. All experienced Mexican food - tacos, tortillas, enchiladas for the first time. To some it was good and to others it was an unusual first experience.

Summer Programs Offered

The Andover / Recreation Community School Department is offering a series of Interest / Enrichment activities during the summer at five locations in Andover.

Through the TOWNSMAN today and ensuing weeks you will find schedules for the Interest / Enrichment activities at West Elementary School, West Junior High School, East Junior High School, Sanborn School and the Ballardvale Community Center.

Registration for School Department Summer School courses will be held on Friday, May 25 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and on Saturday, May 26 from 8:30 a.m. until noon. It will be possible at that time to register for Interest / Enrichment activities also.

The same Interest / Enrichment activities taught by the same instructors are offered at each of the five locations. Check the schedules carefully and register your child at the location closest to your home.

Free bus service will be provided between the Playgrounds, Schools and Ponds.

The Recreation / Community School programs will begin July 2 and continue through Aug. 24.

Registrations will be taken for Interest / Enrichment activities at the Recreation Community School Department office in Stowe Administration building until the end of June.

For further information, call the Rec./C.S. Dept.

IRS Hosts U.F. Planners

Officials of cities and towns throughout the Merrimack Valley will meet May 25 at the Internal Revenue Service Center, Andover, to make plans for the United Fund Drive in the Fall amongst public service employees.

Assistant Director Henry P. Seufert of Andover and the IRS Center, is Chairman of the Public Service Division. Congressman Paul W. Cronin will be the principal speaker at a Dutch-treat luncheon following the 11 a.m. business meeting.

Following the lunch the officials will be taken on a guided tour of the Service Center, the largest processing facility of its kind in the world.

The United Fund's slogan this year is "Thanks to you, it's working."

In accepting the chairmanship of the 1974 Merrimack Valley United Fund, Public Service Division, Mr. Seufert stated, "I have only been in this area a limited time yet I have been greatly impressed by the work of the United Fund agencies. One doesn't realize the contributions these agencies give to the poor, sick and troubled, and simultaneously help communities with their programs for youth and aged, until one sees it at first hand. I have seen the results of their work and am pleased to serve as a division chairman."

The officials invited to attend the business - luncheon meeting include those from Andover, Billerica, Chelmsford, Dracut, Dunstable, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, Methuen, North Andover, Tewksbury, Tyngsboro, Westford and Pelham, Plaistow and Salem, N.H.

More than 140,000 persons in the Merrimack Valley Area are helped yearly towards health, jobs, self-reliance, medical care and personalized assistance.

Employee groups provide the major share of funds to carry on the work so many thousands unable to help themselves depend upon. This year, United Fund agency budgets will require more than in the past merely to keep these necessary assistance groups in operation, Mr. Seufert pointed out.

The Tennessee Legislature voted in 1972 to allow employees to collect unemployment compensation if their plant is closed for vacation but the employer doesn't provide any vacation pay.

Antique Auto Show Sunday

Under the auspices of the Merrimack Valley Chapter, March of Dimes; The Veteran Motor Car Club of America, (Colonial Chapter) will conduct a Parade and Antique Auto Show in the town of Andover, on Sunday, May 27.

President of the Motor Car Club, Joe Antanavich, states that, "Vintage" and "Veteran" cars from many areas throughout New England will be displayed and that most of these "horseless carriages," once considered as "pleasure cars" are now highly valued "treasure cars."

Mr. Antanavich said the early 20th Century models will feature everything from touring, and sporting cars to unique "immortals" of the turn-of-the-Century. Each of these cars has been faithfully kept or painstakingly restored to its "original" condition.

The public is invited to renew these acquaintances with these sturdy "old friends of Americana" by attending the nostalgic and colorful parade, which will start at Andover Junior (East) at 12 noon... and progress from the corner of Chestnut and Main Sts., north, down to Shawsheen Square, turning left on Lowell St. and again on Lincoln, which runs into Andover High School on Shawsheen Road, where the Antique Auto Show will be held. The Auto Show will run from 12:30 to 4:40 p.m.

The "general public" will be the judges in the selection of "the most popular car in the show" based on specific interest and its unique qualities. Each of the Antique Car owners will be the recipient of an engraved, metallic plaque, suitably inscribed with the March of Dimes emblem and that of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, Colonial Chapter.

Tickets to the colorful event are available at The Auto Show and by contacting The March of Dimes office on North Main St., Andover.

Andover Prepping For Opener

By Rick Harrison

Four Andover Babe Ruth team pitchers held South Lawrence East hitless over the seven-inning route, but the local club still had to settle for a 5-5 tie in a pre-season practice game held last Sunday at the Playstead Field.

Andover hurlers Jeff Hubbell, Mike Henderson, Dan Billings and Glenn Verrette allowed only two balls to be hit out of the infield, but SLE parlayed a series of walks, stolen bases, errors and passed balls into five runs to gain the deadlock.

Andover managed only three hits itself, singles by Verrette, Billings and Mike McCormick.

The home team sent eight men to the plate and bolted to a 5-0 lead in the bottom of the third inning.

The visitors struck for three more tallies against Billings in the fifth without benefit of a hit. Four walks, three errors and a wild pitch did the damage.

The tying run came at Glenn Verrette's expense in the top of the seventh. The lefthander walked leadoff batter Chuck Prescott, and last season's Rookie-of-the-Year in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League came around to score on two wild pitches and a passed ball.

The quartet of Andover no-hit hurlers combined for seven strikeouts. Hubbell fanned one, Billings four and Verrette whiffed two men.

Andover placed two runners on base in the second, fifth and sixth stanzas, but all three of the rallies were stymied.

The Andover team will have several more practice games prior to its G-L seasonal opener June 4 against a strong North Andover entry.

Tom Coffey walked, Jeff Hubbell reached on an error and Steve Galvin walked to load the bases. McCormick chased home one run with an RBI single, and Hubbell scored shortly after on a wild pitch.

Glenn Verrette's single rescued Galvin with the third Andover tally, and McCormick scored on a throwing error by the centerfielder during the same play.

TOM COFFEY, first-year Andover Babe Ruth baseball player, lines a single to leftfield during recent intra-squad game at the Playstead Field. Andover tied South Lawrence East 5-5 in a pre-season practice game last Sunday, despite the fact that four Andover pitchers combined for a no-hitter. Andover launches its season June 4 against North Andover.

The Fire

A fire of suspicious origin at the West Junior High school is under investigation this week.

The matter is a serious one for school and public safety officials to cope with, in view of the severity of the possible consequences.

The fire which is believed to "have been definitely set," caused only minor damage in one of the girls' lavatories.

It was spotted in time and extinguished before becoming a serious blaze.

While the nuisance value of the incident proved to be great for the brief moments incurred, the overall problem is of great concern, in view of what could have happened.

We trust that thorough investigation will result in finding those responsible for this malicious damage.

If the young person or persons involved have problems, then such should be dealt with.

A similar occurrence in a school building in a nearby community was dealt with quite adequately through involvement of the entire student body.

If such measures are required here, then they should be followed.

Such activity can not be tolerated.

The State

It would appear that state authorities have once again taken the liberty to shortchange the local taxpayer.

The recently received Cherry Sheets, used by local communities to establish tax rates, was changed, apparently arbitrarily by state officials.

The overall net loss to the 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth results in about $51,000,000.

The decision is being challenged by some municipalities, notably the City of Lowell which has petitioned the Superior Court, to order the state to follow the existing laws in distribution formulas.

What has been done by the state administration secretary, is to apply the distribution formulas for the 18-month budget period based on pending legislation, rather than existing distribution formulas.

No doubt, the effort will result in greater funds for the state, but, based on past experience, state taxes will not be reduced through such methods.

Of vital concern to local officials is the decrease in estimated reimbursement for regional school construction, school transportation and local school construction.

Also decreased is payments to towns and cities for state-owned land.

What makes the matter more difficult to accept, is the fact that the estimates provided by the state are accepted by local officials with the realization that chances are good not all of the funds will be received.

The attorney general of the Commonwealth has given an informal opinion that the action is indefensible in court.

Juggling of formulas, based on pending legislation, seems to us to be evidence of improper efforts at book balancing with the real estate taxpayer the victim.

We would hope and trust that our local legislators are aware of the problem and working in the interest of the communities they are elected to serve to insure that adequate and equitable reimbursement will be forthcoming from the state, based on existing formulas.

The Weekend

The first of the long holiday weekends of the traditional vacation season is upon us this weekend.

Memorial Day annually marks the occasion for the release of pent-up winter energies at resort areas.

Understanding, of course, that such warnings are generally repetitious, we still feel compelled to issue a reminder that safety should be uppermost in the minds of all.

Long weekends can be enjoyable and restful if the simple safety rules are followed, on the road and around the home.

Off The Top Of The Desk

All the hoopla about the big frog jumping contest in California this past week calls to mind that the particular event captures considerable attention in North Andover once a year.

As part of the summer playground program there, an annual frog jumping contest is held with numerous participants winning any number of prizes.

If memory serves correctly the defending champ last year lost out in a rather foul manner, when it was later discovered someone had tied the champs leaping legs.

We were somewhat heartened this past week by the arrival of the Chelmsford newspaper.

The lead story concerned the fact that the town had finally completed its annual town meeting.

It took nine sessions extending over a period from March 12 to May 10 to complete the annual business.

For a while we were convinced Andover maintained the record for town meeting longevity.

Among the top athletes from Andover currently aiding the fortunes of Austin Preparatory school in Reading are Terry Burke and Mark Costello.

Finding plants for wild flower garden or just to naturalize in woods or field is often very difficult. For people who are interested in this sort of gardening, Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary is sponsoring a wild plant sale on Thursday morning, May 31, from 10 to 12 at the Sanctuary in Topsfield. Gardeners are asked to bring surplus plants for the sale, the proceeds from which will be used to purchase rare species for the Sanctuary.

Wild Flower Garden. Plants will be accepted from 10 a.m. on, and unusual or limited specimens will be auctioned off at 11 a.m. sharp. Remaining plant material will then be sold.

Admission will be one plant suitable for the Wild Flower Garden, which will be open to all participants, along with the Rockery which should be at the peak of its spring bloom. For further information, please call the Sanctuary office.

The course includes the use of the transit and level as applied to contouring, plain surveying and location of features. Earl Townsend, registered engineer, will conduct the course.

This course is conducted in cooperation with the Massachusetts Department of Education and is tuition free. Registration is limited and those interested in enrolling should call Mrs. Evelyn Shapiro at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute.

The dogwood with its showy floral display in the spring is one of our most beautiful ornamental lawn trees, and can often be a victim of various threats, according to Robert A. Bartlett.

Borers are deadly enemies invading wounds, bark cracks and at the crotches of limbs. Adults of some dogwood borers lay eggs in May and June. Affected areas of the bark and trunk should be painted with a slurry of a good insecticide in May to control these insects. Avoid mechanical injury such as lawnmower bumps to reduce the chance of infestation.

Leaf spot occasionally is found on dogwood. A good fungicidal spray applied when leaves are half grown and again when full grown will give effective control for brown spot, blood-red spot and spot anthracnose.

Now is the time to boost vigor to weakened trees. Feeding with a good tree food will induce new growth of root and crown. A healthy dogwood tree stands a better chance to overcome attack of borers or other insects.

Pruning should be done immediately after the tree has blossomed. Prune out any dead or dying twigs and branches to encourage development and profusion of floral buds next year. Judiciously spacing limbs will permit better circulation of light and air. Prune neatly, leaving no stub or torn bark.

Beacon Hill Observations

By Bill Kirtz

The number three man in the embattled Office of Economic Opportunity says people in Massachusetts and throughout the country should be free to choose what they want to spend money on an, even more important, to choose what they don't want to spend money on.

J. Laurence McCarthy, a former Bedford lawyer and Young Americans for Freedom activist now heading OEO's office of Legal Services, maintains that "if there's one thing perfectly clear in the U.S., it's that we have to Select programs to cut. There's an enormous need to give relief to the middle-class taxpayer. And if you say that's extremely difficult to do, I agree."

Mr. McCarthy sees Massachusetts' tradition of open Town Meeting paralleled by the no-strings-attached revenue-sharing funding paid and scheduled to be paid out to communities by the federal government.

As much as 85 percent of OEO expenses up to now, he believes, may have been wasted in administrative costs of the Washington bureaucracy.

"It's not necessary or practical that everything good or desirable be done out of Washington," he says. "In fact, that's one of the worst places to begin. Even the liberals who created the Great Society programs (under Lyndon Johnson) agree that those turned into an administrative nightmare."

OEO has been "poorly explained," contends Mr. McCarthy, "it's not widely understood that the President will boost spending in nearly every area now covered. In fiscal year 1974, $30.0 billion will be spent to help the poor compared with $7.9 billion ten years ago."

He sees a recent court decision forbidding OEO to dismantle its services as making the agency "run into a brick wall June 30" when Congressional authorization for OEO expires. Instead, he says, OEO programs could "survive and thrive" by being placed in other agencies before June 30.

Legal Services, says its director, is the "most sexy" department, with $71.5 billion spent under its auspices to ensure aid to those who couldn't otherwise afford it.

Most Controversial

He might also have added that it's the most controversial of all OEO activities. Liberals charge that Mr. McCarthy and the Nixon administration is trying to stifle legitimate dissent by shutting off Legal Service activities which offended local politicians.

But Mr. McCarthy says his department is intent only on "taking Legal Services out of politics. There's been an excessive zeal for organizing poor people and engaging in political action, and that's no proper part of the program."

He says poor people needing legal help will be best served by his proposal to appoint a bipartisan group, under a private corporation, to supervise what he calls its "wholly laudable" aims of making sure everyone's adequately represented.

While Mr. McCarthy assures Massachusetts residents that we'll do better than ever with revenue-sharing funds instead of OEO grants, we stand to lose poverty program and human services reimbursement.

"But we've been over-funded here in the past," he answers. "We're redressing the imbalance, and human services will be hurt. But we need less government in Washington and more along Town Meeting lines where you decide what you do and don't want to spend money on. As much as 85 percent of funding has been gone to administrative costs, and that's counterproductive."

"You don't have to travel around the world to understand that the sky is blue." (Goethe)

Personnel Matters Approved

The school committee approved a group of personnel recommendations Tuesday night, including resignations of Mrs. Kathleen Donahue, Doherty Grade 1 teacher since 1969, and Robert Ford, West Elementary School grade 4 teacher, who is leaving teaching to return to the ministry.

William Drummond, a high school math teacher, was approved for the additional duty of phys. ed. and athletics business manager for the spring season, a post he held all last year and the first two terms of this year.

The schoolmen also approved changes in salary grades of Mrs. Jean DiGloria, central office account clerk, from Grade 11, step 2 to Grade 13, step 2, and of Mrs. Ann Salter from Grade 10, step 4 to Grade 12, step 5.

Richard Robinson was approved by the committee as personnel account clerk, as a replacement, Grade 13, step 1, at $6324. Subscribe to the TOWNSMAN 25

Mrs. Michael J. Miele

Miele - Russell

At a 7 p.m. wedding in St. Augustine's Church, Andover, May 12, Miss Karen Frances Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Russell, 2 Yale Road, Andover, became the bride of Michael J. Miele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore P. Miele, 1 Lenox Circle, Lawrence.

Rev. Ronald DeCarlo, O.S.A., officiated. Miss Virginia Miele was soloist and Miss Mary Lanigan, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls and crystals over silk organza with full length detachable train.

Miss Mary Ellen Russell of Andover served as maid of honor and Miss Cathy Russell of Andover, Miss Jean Chisholm of Lowell and Mrs. Ellen Jacobs of Lawrence served as bridesmaids.

The attendants wore peach and white organdie gowns with picture hats and carried baskets of peach roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Joseph Miele of Danbury, Conn., served as best man.

Ushering guests were Robert Miele of Lawrence, Timothy Desmond of Lexington and Paul Russell of Andover.

They will reside in Lawrence.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School.

Mr. Miele is a graduate of Central Catholic High School and Northern Essex Community College.

Wine Tasting

Party Is Planned

Mrs. William McCann and Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, both of Andover, announce the forthcoming "Soiree Des Vins Francaise," wine tasting party to benefit the Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association.

Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Amore are co-chairing what promises to be a delightful evening on Thursday, May 31, 8 p.m., at the Log Cabin, Highland Road, Andover.

Mrs. Ruth Ley will present the film "Winelands of France," which she and her husband filmed and produced in the famed French vineyard country. Mrs. Ley is a well-known photographer and lecturer and will speak on the making and appreciation of fine wines. A selection of imported French wines, together with appropriate cheeses, will be served.

Reservations may be made by contacting the co-chairmen or any of the ticket committee members, included are: Mrs. Donald Slipp, North Andover; Mrs. Richard McCoy, Salem, New Hampshire. In Andover: Mrs. Allen W. Tarro, Mrs. Richard F. McGrail, Mrs. Andre J. Paradis, Mrs. Joseph J. Reilly, Mrs. James Gildea, Mrs. D.B. Basu, Mrs. William Downs, Mrs. Harry Weinroth, Mrs. Charles Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Lyons, Mrs. Carl E. Boyay.

Simmons Graduates

Two Andover girls were among the degree recipients at commencement exercises at Simmons College, Boston, Sunday, May 20.

Claire M. Dimlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Dimlich, 271 Salem St., Andover and Beth A. Gower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Gower, 13 Argyle St., were among the 300 graduates who heard Gloria Steinem, a leader of the Women's Liberation movement deliver the commencement address and receive an honorary degree from the college.

Miss Dimlich, an elementary education major, completed her student teaching at Oak Hill elementary school in Newton. She was student manager of the Simmons dining facilities.

A biology major, Miss Gower is a graduate of Andover High school and plans to work as an intern at the Cincinnati General hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The minimum weekly benefit under unemployment compensation in Virginia was increased from $18 to $20 a week in 1972.

New Exhibits At Museum Of Science

Boston's Museum of Science will be open this Memorial Day, May 28, with several new attractions ranging from shells and rocks to ice crystals.

A major exhibition of photographs, sculpture and paintings by Gyorgy Kepes is on view in the Museum's new Design Around Us Gallery. Kepes is Director of M.I.T.'s Center for Advanced Visual Studies. His belief in the relationship of art, science and technology motivates both his subject matter and his media. The exhibition continues through August 12.

Several new permanent exhibits have recently opened. The shell collection of Mrs. Gretchen Warren (Mrs. Fiske Warren) stands at the entrance to the Design Around Us Gallery. It shows beauty, harmony and proportion as these occur in nature.

Angles and Areas is a new do-it-yourself exhibit on the Pythagorean Theorem and its corollaries. It features manipulative geometric models which demonstrate basic geometric principles.

As it is being prepared for exhibit, a giant, cutaway model of a grasshopper can be viewed through a special window. When completed Romalea Microptera, as it is called, will feature pushbuttons by which visitors can light up different parts of the grasshopper's anatomy.

In another new exhibit visitors can actually watch ice crystals grow, and nearby they can see a new version of the popular strobe-lit water drips.

Another strobe exhibit shows how electronic flash lamps are used in modern lighthouses and other navigational aids.

A rock specimen has also recently been added to the Museum's ever-growing rock collection. Malachite, a beautiful and dense form of copper ore often carved for sculpture and jewelry, is now on display in the Museum's Life Zones hall. The specimen is from Zaire, Africa.

Museum Offers Reproductions

Museum visitors who have always wanted to take a work of art home with them will be able to now at the Museum of Fine Arts. Authentic reproductions of 19th century Shaker furniture will be on display and offered for sale starting May first.

Included in the selection at the Museum will be pieces similar to those on view in the Museum's American Period Rooms: trestle tables, rocking chairs, candle tables, fruit trays and berry boxes, and peg boards.

Shaker inventiveness, ingenuity and skill were an integral part of a unique experiment in community living in the nineteenth century.

Bisbee Selected As Intern

The National Institutes of Health has announced that Chester A. Bisbee, a graduating Bowdoin College senior, has been selected to participate in the 1973 Federal Summer Intern Program.

The program enables selected college students to work during the summer in responsible positions with various Federal agencies. Mr. Bisbee will work in Bethesda, Md., the National Cancer Institute, a division of the National Institutes of Health. He will spend the three-month period doing research into tumor immunology, an area in which he has worked while at Bowdoin.

Bisbee, a resident of Andover, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Bisbee of 13 Harvard Road. A Dean's list student, he spent his junior year at Wellesley under the Twelve-College Exchange Program.

He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and has won freshman and varsity numerals in swimming. He majored in Biochemistry at Bowdoin and will pursue graduate studies in that field in the fall.

Summer Program Funded

Deerjump IV, Andover's federally funded Title I summer camping program for children with social, financial, emotional and other needs will be funded this summer.

The Mass. Department of Education telephoned the Andover school system Tuesday with news that the necessary letter of credit for the fourth quarter had been received from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, releasing funds.

This means that the educational summer camping program will go forward at Bancroft School under the direction of Deerjump's founder, Frank Bianco. It also means funding for the Andover Pre-Kindergarten Program, also at Bancroft, U.S. Sen. Edward Brooke indicated his interest in the Deerjump program to the State.

Merrimack College Professor of Sanitary Engineering, Dr. Werner N. Grune of Andover, has been awarded a fellowship for June-July, 1973 by the World Health Organization, an agency of the United Nations.

Under the terms of the fellowship grant, Dr. Grune will study the problem of ground and surface water contamination. He will also investigate and evaluate potential health hazards of virus transport and heavy metals leaching from landfills at existing study sites in Great Britain, West Germany and Switzerland.

Throughout his teaching career, Dr. Grune has been involved in sanitary engineering and waste disposal research projects. He has become increasingly concerned by the recent sanitary landfill problems confronting Andover and Lawrence.

Dr. Grune Awarded Fellowship

He hopes that some solutions to the Andover and Lawrence sanitary landfill problems can be obtained as a result of his research fellowship and his conferences with European parasitologists and toxicologists who have been studying these problems for the past twenty years.

A member of the Civil Engineering Department at Merrimack College since 1963, Dr. Grune received his undergraduate degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Connecticut in 1944. He continued his graduate studies in Sanitary Engineering at Ohio State University and received his master's degree in Sanitary Engineering from Harvard University in 1948.

Dr. Grune was awarded the doctorate in Engineering Science in 1951 from New York University where he specialized in Civil and Sanitary Engineering.

Dr. Grune served on the faculty of New York University and Georgia Institute of Technology prior to his appointment at Merrimack. He has also been a Project Director for the United States Atomic Energy Commission in the area of Waste Disposal Research and a Sanitary Engineer in the Water Pollution Control Division of the United States Public Health Service.

During 1969 and 1970, Dr. Grune was engaged in a research project at Merrimack College and the University of Miami sponsored by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration of the United States Department of the Interior. His research project was entitled: Controlling Pollution from Combined Sewer Overflows and Storm Water by Electrode Potential. In August, 1970, he also presented a position paper on Multiple Effect Humidity Process at the Third International Symposium on Fresh Water From the Sea at Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia.

At Merrimack, Dr. Grune teaches undergraduate courses in Environmental Engineering, Oceanography, The Water Crisis, Fluid Mechanics, and the Materials of Engineering.

Dr. Grune is married to the former Lee Gans. The Grunes have two children, Andrea and Guerry, and reside in Andover.

On Honor's List

Cindy H. Greenbaum, 1 Cyr Circle, Andover, a student at Farleigh Dickinson University, Teaneck, N.J., has been named to the honor's list for academic excellence for the past semester. A student in the college of education, she has maintained an average of 3.5 or better.

Music and Color

An energetic, retired couple from Amesbury, who have recently discovered the Public Library in Andover, will present an unusual program at the library the evening of May 24. Norman and Jane Wilson have recently retired but they are as busy as ever with numerous hobbies which include natural foods, gardening, physical fitness, and music. It is in the area of music that they have developed a program called Music and Color, aimed at showing the audience the effect of music on color. They will use electronic devices, wide screens, and amplified music to illustrate their imaginative ideas. Both young and old will enjoy this program; it's at 8 p.m., Thursday, May 24, another exciting event in the library Festival of the Arts.

Bang-Up Final Week

Of course, Monday, the 28th is a holiday, but beginning again on Tuesday, the 29th, we'll have another demonstration of arts and crafts for your enjoyment. In the evening at 7:30 be sure and come to watch two well-known Andover artists work in oils - Corrine Staid and Jane Trumbore. If it's stitchery you want to see, you can get a close-up view of all stitches from Jane Dwyer and Kathleen Matthews. Evelyn Damrell will work on decoupage, Miriam Aubrey on silk-screening, and Leo Dwyer on pencil-drawing. As a new attraction, two men will demonstrate the techniques of painting on plastic and textile in industry. Richard Fenton and Kenneth Finch are the artists. How's that for a glamorous evening? You can see all this from 7:30 to 9 upstairs in the Hall at Memorial Hall Library.

Celebration

As part of the Festival of the Arts, the library is inviting the public to observe the 100th anniversary of the opening of the doors of the original building. That day was May 30, 1873. This year, 100 years later, we have asked Dr. Gerald Griffin of Andover, member of the English Department of Northeastern University, to present a talk on Anne Bradstreet, first poetess of the new settlers in North America. Dr. Griffin will speak, and illustrate his talk with slides, on: Anne Bradstreet in 1873 - 301 years of critical acclaim. Anne Bradstreet's fame is part of this library's literary heritage. We would like to have 100 people help us celebrate our 100 years of service to Andover. The program begins at 8 p.m. Next fall the library will hold its formal observance of the 100th anniversary. Come and get in the spirit of the celebration early. Be with us May 30.

Allan Minkinen

As the last event in the Festival of the Arts, the library is pleased to present a member of the Andover school system music department, Allan Minkinen, on Thursday, May 31, at 8 p.m. in the evening. Mr. Minkinen will play his guitar in a lecture recital which will demonstrate the influence of Spanish vihuela and lute music on the development of early seventeenth century English keyboard music.

Photography Display

Frank Dalton of Newburyport, has an exhibit of his work in the library until June 15. Mr. Dalton recently received the mayor's award for advancing the historic, aesthetic and cultural heritage of Newburyport, and he has also received an award in the Boston Globe color photography contest. His work shows his sensitivity to the area in which he lives: the history, beauty, people of Newburyport.

Children's Room

Our deepest thanks to Miss Ann Foley and the kids from Doherty School who came to the Children's Room last Tuesday, May 14, to demonstrate clay modeling. We had 26 children here, including a cub scout troop. Everyone had a chance to get right into it, up to the elbows. We were really impressed with the creations that went home.

Thursday, May 24, is our last Thursday Thing film presentation. We will be showing Peter and the Wolf, and Charlie Chaplin in the Vagabond. The program will begin at 3:45. It is your last chance; don't miss it!

Registration for Littlest Listeners is now in progress. Children who are 3½ (by October 1) to 5 years old, who live in Andover, who do not attend school of any other kind, and who have not attended Littlest Listeners before, are eligible. Four groups of 20 children will meet from 10-10:45 on alternate Tuesdays or Wednesdays from October to May for stories, games and songs. Register early to ensure your child's participation.

If your child does not meet one or more of the above qualifications, consider the Pajama Party. Two groups of 230 children will meet one evening, alternate evenings (as yet undetermined) from 6:15 - 7:15, roughly following the Littlest Listeners schedule. Pajama Party is an hour of stories, games, songs, and a few crafts. Of course, the children come in pajamas! Register for Pajama Party now!

Audubon Camps

Time is getting short, but there are still openings in the Day Camp sessions and Canoe Camp held at Mass. Audubon's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary in Topsfield.

Three two-week sessions of day camp are planned for children entering grades 3 through 7 starting on July 2. Each session is designed for a specific age group and will include nature study, games and crafts, and a cookout or overnight. For teenagers in August, the Canoe Camp offers ten days of wilderness camping, woodcraft and survival skills along the Ipswich River as it winds through the Great Wenham Swamp.

The camp is open to non-members as well as members of Massachusetts Audubon Society and application can be made for scholarships.

ANDOVER CONDOMINIUMS

Consider this very realistic approach to your housing needs, now and in the future.

THREE BEDROOM TOWNHOUSE CONDOMINIUMS Are Now Available in ANDOVER

The Andover Condominiums, not yet completed, will be a gracious style of living within walking distance of downtown shopping, schools and churches. Completion is soon, but there is still time to choose your interior decor, including appliances and rugs.

NOTE THE ADVANTAGES OF OWNING A CONDOMINIUM:

Management Services maintain the exterior including painting, landscaping, snow plowing and trash pick-up.

Real Estate Taxes, as well as interest on the mortgage, are deductible on Federal Income Tax Returns.

You build equity while your property appreciates instead of paying rent to someone else.

Also consider the Town of Andover and its many advantages of location, recreation, as well as its colonial charm, beautiful schools and tasteful renovations.

These condominiums are reasonably priced at Thirty-five Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

This is a Deck House. Although it is a thoroughly American, contemporary house, it reminds one of the best examples of Japanese residential architecture. In its design and construction it reflects the traditional Japanese concern for orderly function, simplicity and restraint in design, the flexible control of interior and exterior space, the relationship of the house to its natural setting - and most importantly, the typical Japanese attitude to the house as a dwelling place for both the spirit and the body of man.

If you are looking for a house to provide for your whole being with a decent measure of tranquility, telephone (617) 352-2740 to arrange an appointment to visit a Deck House Model Home, or send $2.00 for a fully informative brochure.

Requests Considered By Board

Three special requests from citizen groups got an attentive ear from the school committee Tuesday night - the Alternative Classrooms group's request for a small alternative education "two room schoolhouse" program for 60 children in Jackson School, the petition of some 125 Shawsheen parents to block the transfer of Shawsheen Kindergarten teacher Kathleen Doyle to another school, and the request of the Andover High School Ecology Club that the school committee withdraw school lands from the town's program of mosquito spraying with malathion.

Interest was expressed in the Ecology Club's presentation, which focussed on the insecticide's destruction of bees, suspicion of harmful effects of malathion, and what students considered to be the ineffectiveness of the program - which sprays property from the roadside, and does not include a larvacide program, the young ecologists said, so leave the larvae to grow into mosquitoes a few weeks later. The town has said it will honor any citizen's desire that his property not be sprayed.

However the committee majority did not feel it had the authority alone to decide to withdraw the town's public lands from the program. On William Lane's suggestion, the request is being passed to the selectmen for consideration. The students' argument was that AVIS and the Conservation Commission were refusing spraying, so why not the schools? Mrs. Beth Lynch from the audience spoke in favor of spraying.

The school committee asked the administration to reconsider the transfer of Miss Kathleen Doyle from Shawsheen School, when they received a petition with 125 signatures asking that she be retained at Shawsheen for reasons of stability and the regard of the parents for her teaching.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert called the petition a positive kind of request, but said a number of facets were involved, and Vaughn Clapp reported that Miss Doyle had agreed that afternoon that it would be a good move. This was a confusing case, where the teacher reportedly was not willing to transfer Monday night, but agreed to the move on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Seifert agreed to reconsider the step, in conjunction with the Andover Education Association, before making the final decision by next meeting, June 19.

The Alternative Classroom proposal presented by Dave Baker was praised as extremely responsible, and will be discussed again on June 19, when the administration will report on its further study of the proposal. Seifert said his impression was favorable, and the system needed to accommodate alternatives offered by parents as long as possible. Budget was a question that had to be studied, though William King noted that parental involvement would cut costs. Lyons was cautious, Wragg interested, Lane ready to vote approval in principle Tuesday night.

Alternative Classrooms spokesman Dave Baker said their school philosophy assumes children are capable of initiating and directing their own learning, that artificial compartmentalizing of knowledge, time and space can be artificial and opposed to actual learning, and that intellectual, social, emotional, creative and physical needs are equally important. The stress is on individual development, not competition. Baker said he hoped approval of their learning project need not wait for another group's development of an extremely traditional program, although he thought that was an excellent idea if parents were interested and willing to work one out.

succeed Prof. Albert D. Ullman, who is resigning as provost and senior vice president to return to teaching at the university.

In her new position, Dr. McCarthy will join with Dorothy Marshall in the rank of provost, the latter serving in that capacity at the University of Massachusetts, Boston.

Next to the president, the provost of a university is generally the most powerful individual, handling all aspects of the academic program.

Her new assignment is another in a continuing record of accomplishment for the Andover woman since her graduation, in 1944 from Tufts, earning an A.B. degree in mathematics under the accelerated program.

She later attained her master's degree at Tufts and earned a Ph.D. at Radcliffe in applied physics in 1957.

A faculty member at Tufts since 1946, Dr. McCarthy has served as acting chairman of the

Tentative Agreement Reached

The school committee and Andover Education Association have tentatively settled on a basic salary package of a 4% across the board raise plus shortening the salary track from 14 to 13 steps.

The net effect on the Andover school budget, however, is more like 7%, far more than the Finance and school committees allowed in the school budget passed at town meeting.

Personnel Manager Vaughn Clapp said that when the annual increment due teachers (averaging $300) is added in, and any increases because of change in salary track, the total cost to the town is in the neighborhood of 7%. Secretarial and custodial contracts signed Tuesday also department of physics.

In 1969, she was named the first woman dean of the university, heading the graduate school of arts and sciences.

She holds membership in the Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary physics society and Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society for the promotion and advancement of research.

Dr. McCarthy is also a member of the American Optical Society, the American Physical Society and the Andover Academy of Arts and Sciences.

approximate 7%.

It is these agreements, which put the 18-month year salary totals to more than $100,000 over the top.

This projected deficit is necessitating cutbacks in staffing of school programs which are the subject of citizen concern this week.

On Board

Mrs. George H. Bragdon of Andover, has been elected to a three year term on the board of directors of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts.
